FRIDAY MORNING NOV 14 1879

THE COLUMBIA RIVER RAILROAD

Some weeks ago it was announced that Mr Henry Villard had purchased in Europe five thousand tons of steel rails to be shipped to Oregon At that time it was not definitely known where the rails would be laid but the purchase was made with a view to getting them here by the time plans should be matured, surveys completed and other preparations made. It has now been determined to build a road from Celilo to Walhula during the coming year, and to have it fully completed in time for next fall's business With this view a further purchase has been made of twenty five hundred tons of rails and the whole will be shipped from Cardiff Wales in the following order Nov 15 1000 tons Dec 15 1000 tons Jan 15 2250 tons Feb 1 1500 tons and April 15 1500 tons,—in all rails enough for 150 miles of road Vessels carrying these rails would begin to arrive in April next. In anticipation of their arrival the line of the road will be located grading will be pushed, and ties and timber will be got in readiness so that track laying may begin as early as May next Proposals are requested for furnishing ties and bridge timber through an advertisement that appears elsewhere in THE OREGONIAN. There is no doubt whatever that the road will be built as above stated Messrs Henry Villard and S. G Reed, now in New York, telegraph Capt Ainsworth that all arrangements are fully made.

The experience of the present year on the upper Columbia has demonstrated the necessity of building this road at once So large has the traffic grown that it has become virtually impossible to do it on the river, the more so since the heaviest part of the business is to be done in the season when the water is low, when boats cannot carry full freight, and when, with the best care and skill, boats are frequently disabled by getting on the rocks in tortuous and difficult channels. For a time it was the intention of the company to build more boats on the upper river, to be ready for next year's business But convinced by experience of the inadequacy of any arrangement on the upper river to the vast and rapidly growing business of the interior, they have decided to abandon the idea of building more boats for the coming year on the upper river, and to solve the problem of transportation once for all by building a railroad from Celilo to Walhula, The distance is from 105 to 110 miles. In less than twelve months from this time, therefore, we shall have an all rail route from the Dalles to Walla Walla It cannot be long till the road is extended to Portland That result may be expected within twelve months following, that is, before the end of 1881, or within two years from this time. As traffic increases the reasons which now compel the construction of a railroad from Walhula to Celilo will require its extension to Portland, The time from Portland to Walla Walla, after the road is in operation from the Dalles eastward will not exceed twenty four hours, and it will be reduced much below that when the extension to Portland is completed.

Construction of the road on the upper Columbia will not cause the abandonment of river transportation. There will still be a traffic from various localities not touched by the road, and from points on Snake river, which will give the river boats enough to do As the Northern Pacific extends its line a great traffic will be created in that part of Washington territory north of Snake river and east of the Columbia, as well as in the northern part of Idaho This traffic will all take the Columbia route, by river or rail Settlement of the vast country east of the Cascade mountains, and development of its resources will in a short time tax to the utmost all the means and methods of transportation which may be called into existence. Few can conceive the future of the country, and no imagination can magnify it.

These movements point to greatly increased activity in business during the coming year. Portland's era of active and rapid growth is but just begun. The whole northwest will participate in the rising and onward movement, and we shall have a "boom" of our own.

A STRANGE STORY.

The article entitled "The Demise of the Kaisarbund," published in Blackwood for October and heretofore noticed in these columns, gives a bit of secret history in connection with recent European politics, which if veritable, is extremely interesting. The Kaisarbund was an alliance formed by the emperors of Russia, Germany and Austria in 1872. Territorial aggrandizement, with war, is declared to have been its prime object. The three emperors pledged themselves to respect each other's territories and separate interests. A century ago the same three powers formed an alliance for the destruction of Poland; the Kaisarbund of 1872 was formed for the partition of Turkey. After describing the alliance of the three emperors and the events that followed in Europe up to 1876, the writer speaks of the Andrassy (Austrian) note, demanding reforms in the internal administration of Turkey, as a pretext for aggression by the allies. A paper followed called the Berlin memorandum, also demanding reforms. The writer points out the mysterious fact that though the Andrassy note was indorsed by all the powers, Great Britain included, the Berlin memorandum, though differing little from it, was instantly rejected by the British government. This act he connects with the departure of the British fleet for Besika bay, and furnishes a startling explanation for both events. While the Berlin memorandum was under consideration he says, one Friday night in May, 1870, a secret dispatch was received in Downing street that caused great energy of action on the part of the British cabinet. While a peremptory rejection was hurried to Berlin on the one hand a swift order went to the channel fleet on the other which sailed at once to the Mediterranean to join the fleet there and proceed to Besika bay On Sunday following the German iron clads came out of the harbor of Wilhelmshoe in the Baltic and steamed down the English channel far enough to discover that the English fleet was ahead of them when they turned back The Blackwood writer says that the secret dispatch received by the English cabinet warned it of a projected coup by the Kaisabund As soon as the assent of the powers to the Berlin memorandum was received the emperors were to secure material guarantees for the reforms it demanded A Russian corps was to be landed at Bourgas and throw itself into Constantinople, while the German fleet was to sail for the Dardanelles scatter the Turkish fleet and co-operate in the work of compelling reforms This is Russia and Germany would be carrying out a policy to which the Emperors had agreed and would be joined by Austria, a foothold in Turkey would be won and for many a lot of Turkish provinces Russia would be indemnified and be duly instructed in the writer expresses the prompt action by which the fleet was sent and also to certain telegrams to be found in the book in question, which England once saved the Danish fleet from the arms Napoleon by a ruse in hers I

An Ohio paper suggests that the Louisville Courier Journal should not be so hard on Governor-elect Foster for selling cahoo during the war as Kentucky sown governor was doing that I

FABRICATED DISPATCHES

The Standard is disposed to discredit the news of the only victory which its party has achieved this whole year Under the above caption it says

It will be remembered on the day after the election the dispatches published in THE OREGONIAN stated that Yazoo had gone democratic. We had our doubts about this piece of news ever coming over the wires through the press association so have taken the trouble to closely watch the dispatches published by the other press association papers and fail to find any such reference We believe it a pure piece of fabrication on the part of THE OREGONIAN and it never received the dispatch as published It is nothing unusual for that paper to refuse the publication of dispatches, but we had hardly supposed that a journal which makes such loud professions of morality would fabricate its news and play it off as special dispatches The political news through the press association is bad enough but is much worse after it passes the manipulator's pencil of THE OREGONIAN

We are really sorry that our dispatches give the Standard so much trouble Yet we submit that it is not bound to reprint them as it regularly does To relieve its mind in this instance, and to furnish it proof that the dispatch announcing the democratic victory in Yazoo was genuine we reprint it to look in the San Francisco Alta California of Nov 5th seventh column first page, about the middle of said column and it will there find the dispatch precisely as THE OREGONIAN gave it The same piece of news was published also in the other journals of be press association No no let the Bourbon organ dismiss its fears and cheer up There has been a democratic victory in Yazoo THE OREGONIAN would not so cruelly mislead he organ for the world It doesn't grudge it this only solid crumb of comfort which all the elections this year have furnished it Being a newspaper THE OREGONIAN cannot refuse to give the news of events as they occur It is its business to be a newspaper and it is published solely as a newspaper Hence it makes no difference to it, as to publication of news, whether such news be of an agreeable or disagreeable sort it gives it all the same When a democratic victory occurs the Bourbon organ may rely on finding an announcement thereof in its columns every time, just as in the case of Yazoo and just the same as if a republican victory had been won We had no idea that the deep melancholy which has manifestly been brooding over the columns of the organ for a week past was due to cruel doubts about the reality of the democratic victory in Yazoo, or we should have taken pains to clear up those doubts days ago But let us hope that it will now brace up and be itself again We make allowance for its lacerated feelings when it says "the political news through the press association is bad enough It has been bad enough this year for the democratic party, undoubtedly but THE OREGONIAN can't help that, and it benevolently requests the Bourbon organ to make the most of the victory in Yazoo and be happy

ANOTHER CONTEST IN SAN FRANCISCO

It appears that a "lepros" judge in San Francisco has decided that the Kearney candidates who were successful in the recent election are ineligible to office because they pledged themselves to accept reduced salaries It is claimed that this pledge, being in the nature of a bribe offered to electors, vitiates the election Kearney is talking even more violently than usual since affairs have taken this turn He has some reason this time, for the proceeding is really an outrage on popular and electoral rights It is absurd to claim that voters were bribed by the pledge of the candidates There is nothing in the assertion Besides, the salaries are unconscionable and ought to be reduced, and a pledge to that effect, instead of being a crime, should be regarded as an entirely proper thing Kearney is, however, making a fool of himself by his extremely violent language He and his followers should appeal to the sense of public justice and call on all fair-minded people to oppose a proceeding which strikes at the fundamental principle of popular government. Such an appeal could not be unheeded, and, if a new election should become a necessity, thousands would vote with the wronged party just for the purpose of enforcing fair-play. But Kearney may spoil all by his intemperate utterances

Rev Jacob Abbott, widely known as the author of many books for young people, died at his home at Farmington, Me, Oct 31, at the age of 70 years. A complete list of his works would comprise over 200 titles Among the more popular are the "Young Christian" series, (4 volumes,) the "Rollo Books (28 volumes); the "Lucy Books," (6 volumes,) the "Gay Family" series, (12 volumes) the "Jonas Books," (6 volumes) the Franconia Stories," (10 volumes,) "Harper's Story Books," (36 volumes,) besides more than 20 of the series of illustrated histories to which his brother, John S C Abbott, also a very prolific writer, contributed Three sons of Rev Jacob Abbott are also widely known as authors their specialty being legal subjects Many of the works of Jacob and John S C. Abbott have been translated into foreign languages, both in Europe and Asia.

According to a statement prepared by officers of the postoffice department at Washington this country has about three times as many postoffices as Great Britain, the exact figures being 44,425 against 13,768 But in Great Britain the number of letters handled per head of population is nearly twice as great as in the United States being 31 against 16 and the value of money orders issued is about 66 per cent greater in Great Britain. On the other hand, the number of newspapers handled in the United States is more than seven times as great and the number of postal cards nearly twice as great as in Great Britain

Secretary Evarts is charged with looking forward to an election to the United States senate in place of Kernan and also that his recent stalwart utterances spring from this new ambition New York judging by her past record, will be very apt to choose a senator vastly inferior to Wm M Evarts in many of the qualities which should distinguish an American senator

I

With a painful limp in her heels
With corns upon all of her toes
A woman tramps round a sawdust track
And this gives vent to her woes
Walk walk, walk!
Down and up and around,
With Donley close behind me
And Denman gaining ground

II

Walk walk walk!
When the day breaks overhead
And walk walk walk
When the Chinaman go to bed
I'd rather be a wheel
On the engine of Number Four,
Or even a peanut roasting machine,
Than to keep up this thing much more

III

Though the roaster turns and turns,
It ceases once in a while
And the wheels of the engine sometimes rest
When the boys go in to smile
But Wiley and Florence stride
With VonBerg at Armory Hall,
And if I give out they'll scalp the tin
That lets to my purse should fall

IV

Walk, walk walk!
My sorrows none can tell!
Oh happy the women who promenade,
Or shop at the I X L.
When I think of this grand bazaar
My tasx seems doubly hard
And I long to handle their new silk plush
At ninety cents a yard

Tis true, one thought I have
To somewhat lighten my woes,
That on my swollen feet I wear
Their two-bit Balbriggan hose—
That fancy silk clocked hose
At twenty five cents a pair—
Long, fine, full finished and just the thing
For a tramper like me to wear

VI

Oh when this week is over
And I have forgotten its pain,
I never will walk for glory,
I never will walk for gain
There's but one thing I shall walk for
You want to know it?—well
I will only walk for bargains
To the mammoth I. X. L.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

[SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—12:00 A. M.—For Pacific coast: Generally cloudy weather. Light rains from San Francisco northward to Washington Territory.

CITY.

BE LOSE LOST BROTHER.—A forcible illustration of the connection of an event in one part of the country with any other far distant, and is just furnished us by a gentleman in this city. About twenty five years ago a brother of the gentleman separated from him somewhere in the eastern states and went south into Arkansas and Texas, finally settling in Sherman, in the latter state. No intelligence in all the quarter of a century, nearly, had passed between these two brothers, one of them coming to Oregon years ago and the other remaining in the south as before stated. Each supposed the other probably dead. A few weeks ago the one in Oregon happened to step into a hotel in Sherman, and seeing a copy of THE OREGONIAN on the table, picked it up and began to look it over, without much thought of finding anything directly interesting to himself. Glancing over the local column he saw an account of the presentation of a gold-headed cane to an officer of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows. In the name of the officer he recognized that of his brother, and writing at once to that state, found that the recipient of the cane and his long lost brother were one and the same. Ere this they have doubtless returned to each other with the ever convenient per the many events with which they were met since they parted so long ago, and congratulated each other on the means which on one more brought them within communication.

SOUTHERN OREGON MINING NOTES.—Capt. A. F. Ankeny arrived last night from Jacksonville and will remain in the city until Monday. He reports a heavy snow storm Sunday and Monday night along the coast mountains, particularly in Josephine county, where it lies to the depth of one to one and a half feet. The Ellum Gravel and Mining companies have their ditches completed and will start a full head of water to-morrow. The Sterling mine will have a full head of water from the new extension of their ditch on the 20th.

TIMBER TRESPASS.—The government has commenced a suit against Farrow Bros., of Seattle, for trespassing on land belonging to the United States. This company is better known as the Umatilla River Lumber Company, which has recently been organized. Notice to the parties arrested, it may be well to say, the trespass was innocently committed on the land had not been surveyed at the time. Subsequently, the land was surveyed.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.—Says the Advocate: We understand the Presbyterian mission school in the old academy building, was full to overflowing last Sunday. We are glad to see so much interest taken, especially by the young men and gentlemen of the church. These mission schools sometimes do the officers and teachers as much good as is done the pupils.

THE FARRAS.—Messrs. James Pottinger, R. Farras and W. G. Steel of this city will leave about two weeks a new paper at Albany, which will be called the Albany Herald. The forthcoming paper will be 27x40 inches, and will be republican in politics.

HOW AMONDT LEFT.—The finance committee of the Grant reception have audited all the bills, and have a surplus of $1,500 in their hands. It has been suggested that this amount be divided among the Fire, the Ladies Relief Society and the Grant's Home.

STEAMER AND HAYDN SOCIETY.—Mr. Kinnear, the proprietor, requests us to state that the "Belshazzar" has arrived, and that a full rehearsal is requested for to-night at 8 o'clock.

THE CITY OF PUEBLO.—The steamer City of Quincy will leave Portland for Dayton and Lafayette on Tuesday, Wednesday and Fridays, connecting with the Dayton railroad each way.

CLAMS.—A grand clam chowder was served this evening by Engine Co. No. 4. The boys had a "way up" time. They did not forget the OREGONIAN office. Thanks.

SUPREME COURT.—The United States district court convened yesterday morning at 10 A. M., without transacting any business the same was adjourned until next Saturday.

STEAMER ARRIVED.—The steamer State of California arrived at San Francisco yesterday morning at 6 hours from Columbia bar.

SHIP BUILDING.—The ship Quagmire has been launched at Coosetown with 19,681 tentals of wheat, valued at $39,250.

NOTICE TO PHYSICIANS.—In the state circuit court yesterday William M. Pierson was admitted to practice.

AMUSEMENTS.

The following programme will be given at the grand musical and literary entertainment at the Congregational Church to-night:

PART I.

1. Fairy Queen, (Glee).....Chorus.
2. Reconciliation (Dickens).....Prof. Chauvin.
3. Recitation.....M. S. McClaire.
4. Trio of B. Gougu).....Prof. Chauvin.
5. Recitation.....Miss Kate Freeman.
6. Extract from Mark Twain.....Prof. Chauvin.

PART II.

1. Song of the Sea, (Solo and Quartette)
2. Recitation (Sinbad), McClaire, Cole, Staples.
3. Recitation from A. Ward.....Prof. Chauvin.
4. Song (Paris).....Mrs. Crizan.
5. Recitation (Bower).....Prof. Chauvin.
6. Song After the Horn Ecconding (Rivas).....Mrs. Schwager.
7. Recitation (Buchanan).....Prof. Chauvin.

Miss Chauvin's readings are pronounced by many to be of very high order. All who heard her on the public appearance in Portland, at the Congregational Church, were delighted with his recitations. By special request he will repeat the "Bloomer" to-night. Miss Schwager, of Salem, Ohio, has a very strong, finely cultivated soprano voice. Prof. Cook's choir will furnish the music. This entertainment promises to be one of the musical and literary events of the season. The entertainment will be given in the Congregational church of the church and not the vestry as heretofore announced.

Sturgis Wins the 20 Mile Race at Turn Hall.—Exhibition Walks by Lee and Dugan at New Armory.

The greatest interest shown since the walking contests began was manifested at Turn Halle last night in the 20 mile "go as you please" race between Miss Sherman and Miss T. B. Sturgis. The hall was densely crowded including a number of gentlemen of the Portland Rowing Association of which latter, Sturgis is a member. The race commenced at 8 p. m. both running at a rapid pace, Miss Sherman finishing the first mile in 8:30 and Sturgis in 8:40. The second mile was walked nearly as close by the latter, Sturgis walking a long long stride, his shoulders thrown well back his head slightly dropping and was the recipient of compliments at all times upon his graceful carriage and totally unexpected powers as a pedestrian. Miss Sherman walked and ran with the power in that peculiar to feminine kind, and sustained the expectations of the audience. From one start until nearly the end of the 10th mile there was never more than one and a half laps difference between the contestants and neither showed signs of weakening. The last five miles were finished in short stanzas, and in 1:47:5 by Miss Sherman. Sturgis completed his 20th mile in 1h. 9m. 5s. Miss Sherman's second hour. For the next three miles there was never a lap's difference between them. On the 26th lap of the 13th mile, Miss Sherman made a step into a hotel for a bite, was obliged to retire for 26 minutes to have her rubbed out. Sturgis walked slowly while she was off the track, and had gained 1½ miles before she returned. Miss Sherman, although suffering intensely, made a splendid effort to make up the loss by running the last five miles, but the task was too much for her completing the 20 miles amid deafening applause from the crowd which had not in the least diminished. The time was 3h. 59m. 30s. Miss Sherman eleven laps behind.

Misses Alice Dorris and Lillie Bowman walked their quarters with the same quick, graceful pace shown during their long and arduous task. On two occasions each one of these ladies happened to be even with Mr. Sturgis on the last lap of their quarter, and endeavored to beat him for that distance, in each instance being successful. The space square feet and we was simply beaten by these sports, and won for the ladies vociferous applause.

To-night the great contest of the week. a 24 hour test and the walk between Miss Sadie Dooley and Miss Sherman will commence at 10 o'clock. There has been much rivalry between them on the question as to who is the best walker. Miss Dooley acknowledges that Miss Sherman is her superior in a six day "go as you please" contest, but claims that she can beat Miss Sherman in a walk. This will be decided in the race to-night.

New Armory Hall.

At Armory Hall last evening, the large building was filled with an audience composed largely of ladies to witness the trial of endurance going on between Misses Florence and Wiley. Both are still on the track and don't show the least signs of fatigue. Both ladies are now enjoying a good sleep every night, and are beginning to feel its refreshing effects.

This morning Miss Wiley was sleeping soundly at 2 A. M., and had been for an hour previous. Miss Florence does not as yet get her sleep as regular as has her fair competitor, but having broke the spell by a six hours sleep while walking, Wednesday evening, it is expected that she will present a more sprightly appearance on the track from this time forth.

Mr. S. W. Ike, Miss Wiley's trainer, last evening gave an exhibition walk of 10 miles, which he completed in the space of 1 hour, 50 minutes and 29 seconds. Following is the time made each mile: 1st, 10:42; 2d, 10:38; 3d, 11:03; 4th, 11:14; 5th, 10:40; 6th, 11:32; 7th, 11:42; 8th, 11:22; 9th, 10:42; 10th, 10:16.

After finishing his ten mile walk Mr. Lee ran a mile in 7:50. During this walk Mr. Dougan walked 5 miles against time in 1 hour 4 minutes and 28 seconds, a little short of the time he made Wednesday evening.

On saturday evening there will be a mile race between Messrs. Lee and Fulton for $20 a side, which promises to be a spirited affair, as both are noted for their speed and endurance.

During the walk last evening Miss Florence and Miss Wiley made a "spurt," much to the edification of the audience and particularly the ladies, who were vociferous in their applause as the fair pedestrienes sped round the track at an astonishing rate. The former made her quarter in 2:35 and he latter, not to be outdone, got down to her work and completed her task in the remarkably quick time of 2:16. This is extraordinary good walking considering that the ladies have now been on the track continually for a period of over 150 hours, having in that time made 520 quarter miles. The interest in this exhibition is vigorly increasing, as is shown by the large crowds who come night after night. A brass and string band lends its charms to the occasion nightly, and taken altogether, is worthy of the patronage so liberally bestowed on it.

NEWS NOTES FROM THE SOUND.

[REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN.]

SEATTLE Nov. 11.

The weather has been cold, wet and disagreeable for the past week.

John Leary, Esq., of the law firm of Struve & Leary of this city, has been appointed commissioner of Washington territory by Gov. Thayer, of Oregon.

Brewster & Co., have procured a charter from the commissioners of Whatcom county for the construction of a railroad from the head of navigation on the Skagit to the gold mines.

Careful estimates place the total cash receipts of the Swinomish grain crop this season at $100,000. This is a pretty good showing considering the fact that the total production of grain in that section is as yet in its infancy.

Coal dust has become quite a common article here as well as the more fashionable ones. Messrs. Peterson & Co., have on exhibition specimens of the purest coal in San Francisco this week for which they payed $27 per ounce.

Col. Eldridge informs your correspondent that he has secured the property of the interest of the estate of a Public Mill at Port Madison, in the North American Lumber and about which the editor of THE OREGONIAN has expressed doubt. The deed he says, is in the Collector's safe.

Several blocks of land are being cleared off on the south Seattle ridge to meet the demand for homes in that part of town, and as soon as the range of trees on the ridge on the bay are cleared away, a considerable showing will have been made in improvements in that quarter.

There are now 225 children in attendance at the Territorial University in this city, and the school is in a flourishing condition. The attendance is considered large considering the fact that the faculty have been more critical this season than heretofore in admitting pupils not up to grade.

Of some 30 logging camps in operation between here and the head of the Sound two years ago, only one is now running. This shows how serious is the depression in the logging operations this season. However they are likely to be running to the other extreme by the end of next season.

The Excelsior factory, established at Puyallup a short time ago, is a prosperous concern. Messrs. Hall & Sanborn, furniture manufacturers of this city, have been using the Puyallup excelsior for several months and pronounce it superior to that imported from the east. Considerable quantities are now being shipped to Portland and San Francisco. The excelsior is manufactured from the native cotton wood, which is probably better adapted to this purpose than the eastern elm.

Mrs. Britton the woman who recently attempted the murder of her child in this city, the full particulars of which the readers of the OREGONIAN have been made acquainted with by telegram, is now stopping at Providence taking care of her offspring. The case has been turned over to District Prosecuting Attorney Ballard, and will probably be presented to the next grand jury. The woman has declared a well known Skagit logger family able to furnish the little waif a reasonable endowment.

The new Opera House, now being constructed in this city for Col. Square, by Mr. D. N. Bigelow, and on which work was commenced on the 4th of September last, will be ready for occupancy on the 20th inst. Theatrical Manager Maguire, of Portland, has leased the opera room and will take charge on the 24th inst., intending to put on "Pinafore" for Thanksgiving week. The building is 64 feet front by 78x88 feet in size, three stories high, with hip roof, and deck 18x30 feet. The lower story of the front is an inflation of iron. The upper story, having segment windows, bracketed and paneled cornice, and presenting a very neat and attractive appearance. There are four stores on the lower floor, 20x24 feet in width, with a depth of 78 feet. The building contains five suites of rooms for offices and a lodge room on the third floor 40x35 feet. The opera room is 47½x66 feet in size, 28 feet high, with a stage 30x47½ feet in size. The room will seat 800 persons comfortably, and is very attractive and comfortable in appearance. There are two nicely constructed private boxes on either side of stage 8x10 feet in size. The new building, all considered, is creditable to the enterprise of its proprietor and to the contractor and superintendent of its construction.

Country produce is coming in slowly. With the exception of oats, buckwheat, crops are considerably shorter than last year. The oat crop is one-third heavier than heretofore, but the condition of the market is less favorable. Last season the crop was mostly bought up at from 40 to 45 cents per bushel. This year it is being shipped generally on growers accounts, while but 30 and 32 cents are obtainable. The wheat crop is more than double that of last year, while prices are far better. Two hundred tons were shipped from here to San Francisco per steamer Orizaba on her last trip. The onion crop is only about one half of last year's product, while prices range from ½ to ¾ cents per pound as compared with 12 and 12½ cents last year. Last fall 1,000 bushels of onions were shipped from here to San Francisco, while this season as far no shipments of onions have been made from here, with no prospect of any being made. The potato crop on an average is at least one-third less than last year, while 35 and 40 cents are now being paid, as against 50 and 60 cents, and even 75 and 80 cents, later in the season last year. The hop crop has been a third less than a year ago. A tremendous advance in prices, however, has been realized. Last season 2 to 8 cents per lb were obtained, the crop being shipped as a general thing on owners' account, while this season it is being bought up at from 25 to 32 cents per pound. The hay crop is about the same as last year, while prices range a little lower. Last year $10 and $12 were obtained per ton as against $9 and $10 this fall.

SUICIDE.

A distinguished Scientist once said: "No man with a strong, healthy stomach ever committed suicide, yet many suffer the torments of the damned with dyspepsia, when a single bottle of DR. MISNER'S ENGLISH DANDELION LIVER AND DYSPEPSIA PILLS will give relief, and, if persisted in, cure the worse case of this distressing trouble. This pill cures torpid liver, biliousness, sallow complexion, foul breath, sick headache, heartburn, pain in side and back, removes pimples from the face, regulates the bowels, is sugar-coated and guaranteed purely vegetable. It acts directly on the coating of the stomach and on the liver; is suited to any climate, wet or dry weather. Beware of imitations; genuine has cut of lion on outside wrapper. Price, 50 cents. Sold by all druggists. Hodge, Davis & Co., Portland, wholesale agents.

How to Save Money.

Instead of going to a doctor, if you have Bright's Disease, Diabetes, pain in back and loins, smarting, inflammation, calculi, brickdust deposit, or any trouble of the kidneys or bladder, buy a bottle of DR. MISNER'S NEPHRITICUS, the great Buchu Compound. It is the best prescription ever compounded for these troubles. Abrams & Carroll, Wholesale Druggists, say: "We recommend Nephriticus as the best Kidney and Bladder Remedy in the market." Woodward, druggist, Portland, Oregon, says: "Everybody speaks highly of it." Cailes, druggist, Portland, says: "Sold lots of it; it always does the work." Many have been cured of disturbing kidney complaints after the doctors gave them up. Sold by all druggists. Price $1.25. Hodge, Davis & Co., Portland, Wholesale Agents.

DR. Astley Cooper's Vital Restorative.

The great English remedy—has made more cures of Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Lost Manhood, nocturnal emissions, impotence, incapacity for social labor, despondency, and such diseases as are induced by youthful follies and excesses, than all other medicines combined.

It is not a stimulant nor excitant, is perfectly safe to take, is not a quick restorer, and produces results that are wonderful.

Owing to the fact that there exists such a discrepancy between the views of wheat holders and shippers as to check the volume of transactions in that cereal, there has been less call upon the local money market than prevailed last week. Rates of loans and discounts are, however, unchanged.

The advance on imported goods noticed before, is still maintained, though the full rise results before have been reached.

From the New York Financial Chronicle of the 29th ult we learn: "The Oregon Railway & Navigation Company incorporated under the Oregon law on June 13, 1879, has made application to have its securities quoted at the stock Exchanges. The stock is $5,000,000, of which $1,458,300 is issued and $3,541,700 still unissued; the bonds are $5,000,000 6 per cent, gold first and only mortgage, running until July 1909, the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, trustee. $4,130,000 still in the treasury. The following are the earnings of the company since July 1st last, when the company began its operations. For the month of July, $174,152; expenses $81,756. For the month of August the earnings were $202,661, and expenses $88,222; for the month of September the earnings were $201,476, and expenses $106,951."

Domestic Produce.

In this line of trade, the past week has been generally quite active for the season, with values usually firm and the volume of the movement fair. The wheat market, however, has at times evinced quite a lack of life and until the condition of the freight market at home and the market for that cereal abroad shall change, we may not expect any great amount of activity. The Reporter of this week says there appears to be a firmly seated conviction with farmers and interior warehousemen that higher values will obtain after the turn of the year, and until this is confirmed or else proved fallacious there will be but few sales between now and the middle of February unless buyers meet sellers part way. At everything below 82 sellers part with their product sparingly. The exports so far for the season from this city is short in value but more in Walla Walla; even at the increase in the latter the total exports fall below last season up to this time. In this state and also in Washington east of the Cascades the amount already put aside for seeding is all of one-third more than last season, and with favorable weather this will be increased still further. The amount put in so far this year is without precedent and the weather has been all that could be desired to or ng the plant forward.

The agents and owners of wheat shipments firm in their asking rates, while shippers are disposed to bid down on charters because of the decline in the wheat market in Europe and the high price which farmers demand for their grain. There are now only two disengaged vessels at hand, and rates are given nominally at 70s, though no vessel has been taken for several days. The transactions in wheat that have occurred have ranged about $1 95 per cental, though sales made at these figures were generally not of large parcels. A great proportion of the surplus is said to be in strong hands and it becomes a question which will wear the other out, the holders of wheat or of ships.

Flour is in moderate supply with no pressure to sell, and a fair inquiry for both for the local trade and for export. The direct shipments of flour so far since harvest amount to upwards of 40,000 barrels and several of the fourteen or fifteen vessels now in port will carry whole or partial cargoes of the same product. Shipments of both wheat and flour to San Francisco have been much lighter the last two and a half months than during the corresponding time for three or four years past. In the first ten months of 1877, San Francisco received from Oregon about 400,000 centals of wheat and about 60,000 bbls of flour, in ten months in 1878, 300,000 centals wheat and 100,000 bbls flour. This year, up to the first of November, our shipments to San Francisco reached only 85,000 centals of wheat and about 70,000 bbls flour.

Oats are in good request at current low rates, buyers apparently having control of the market.

Potatoes are slightly improved, specially choice, for table use, which command 5@10 cents per sack over common or inferior varieties.

Other vegetables and fruits are abundant at the quotations below.

Dairy products and provisions are steady and in good demand.

Home Produce Market.

Mark Lane Report.

English Crops—Bad Weather in Ireland and Fine Weather in England—English Market for the Past Week.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Mark Lane Express says: A decided improvement in the weather during the past week facilitated wheat sowing, which is fairly forward in the southern and some midland counties. In the higher districts of Scotland the commencement of snow and night frost has necessitated the reaping of much grain in an imperfectly ripened condition. The root crop is only expected to be half an average yield. It is stated that the prospect is the most serious ever encountered by the present generation of Scotch farmers. Irish reports are less unfavorable, the weather having been very fine.

At Mark Lane, English wheat has been rather more freely offered; but the supply is undoubtedly small for the time of the year. The condition is somewhat improved, owing to more favorable weather for thrashing. At a majority of the provincial markets business has been quite inanimated, and a large reserve of the grain offered has been useless to millers. The few fine dry lots met with changed hands on former terms, while inferior parcels were quite neglected. The impulse of foreign wheat into London has been but just not excessive. There was a slight revival in business Monday, but since then some reaction has taken place. Speculators had since shown confidence is somewhat shaken by an increase in the visible supply in American holders. However, have been upward rises in prices in New York and there has been no disposition to force sales. On the whole there has been only a retail consumptive demand, which was satisfied at previous prices.

Sales of English malting barley was checked by liberal imports of French and German barley. Maize was neglected and prices slightly easier despite the comparative absence of arrivals.

Arrivals at ports of call have been large. Where is in a state of suspension, buyers holding off pending further arrivals, and prices fully a shilling per qr. lower on the week. Maize in fair demand at about 34 per qr. decline. Business in wheat for shipment is very limited at about 2s per qr. decline. Maize and barley easier. Sales of English wheat last week 36,35c qrs at 36s 3d per qr, against 52,987 qrs at 39s 5d per qr same week last year. The imports into the United Kingdom for the week ending Nov. 1st, were 1,050,768 centals of wheat and 270,686 cwts of flour.
